

SOCIETY

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

A bridge tea that was given by Mrs. bel Wilcox, Alberto Wholly, Julia Freeman, Katherine Stephens, Ziegler Edward Irwin Spalding at the Hotel Courtland. This attractive hotel was decorated in pink and green, these two colors being favorites of Miss Spalding. The drawing room, where Mrs. Edward Irwin Spalding and her daughter received their guests, was decked with potted palms and hanging basket's of maidenhair fern. Large fancy baskets filled with double peach-blown hibiscus and maidenhair fern, were placed on inlaid tables, teak wood tabourettes and cabinets, the baskets being partially veiled with pale pink silk illusion. Mrs. Spalding looked very handsome in a Paris gown of gold satin embroidered in dull shades of gold. A black velvet hat rimmed in white chiffon roses veiled in gold net, completed the costume. The bride-elect, Miss Spalding, was a picture in a white embroidered net, draped over white satin. A large picture hat of white silk, faced with black satin, trimmed with a willow plume suited Miss Spalding's type of blonde beauty to perfection. The announcement of the engagement was not made until the latter part of the afternoon, and this was done in a unique and novel fashion. At the conclusion of the card-playing, exquisite Dresden cups and saucers were awarded to Mesdames James Madison Kennedy, Edwin Cherry of Oregon, Percy Cleghorn and the Misses Katherine Steeves, Helen Rockwell and McStockier, daughter, Miss Edith Spalding, who were the highest "bridgers." Each married to Lieutenant Garrett of the one of the guests cut for the consolation Tenth Infantry, who is now stationed that prize, which was bon-bon basket on recruiting duty at Fort Shafter, N. ket, tied with pink ruffe. The trophy Y, and Miss Alice became the bride was won by Miss Margaret Peterson, Lieutenant Bowen of the Twentieth Infantry, a little over two years ago. These two weddings, which occurred about two years apart, were solemnized in St. Andrew's Cathedral and were marked with the pomp and splendor that is due a service wedding, and are well remembered by the smart set of Honolulu as being two of the most brilliant society functions that have ever taken place in Honolulu. The date for the Rogers-Spalding nuptials has not been set, but if the present plan for the wedding is consummated the function will rival any former affair that has taken place in this city.

The announcement of the engagement was made Tuesday afternoon at a bridge tea that was given by Mrs. bel Wilcox, Alberto Wholly, Julia Freeman, Katherine Stephens, Ziegler Edward Irwin Spalding at the Hotel Courtland. This attractive hotel was decorated in pink and green, these two colors being favorites of Miss Spalding. The drawing room, where Mrs. Edward Irwin Spalding and her daughter received their guests, was decked with potted palms and hanging basket's of maidenhair fern. Large fancy baskets filled with double peach-blown hibiscus and maidenhair fern, were placed on inlaid tables, teak wood tabourettes and cabinets, the baskets being partially veiled with pale pink silk illusion. Mrs. Spalding looked very handsome in a Paris gown of gold satin embroidered in dull shades of gold. A black velvet hat rimmed in white chiffon roses veiled in gold net, completed the costume. The bride-elect, Miss Spalding, was a picture in a white embroidered net, draped over white satin. A large picture hat of white silk, faced with black satin, trimmed with a willow plume suited Miss Spalding's type of blonde beauty to perfection. The announcement of the engagement was not made until the latter part of the afternoon, and this was done in a unique and novel fashion. At the conclusion of the card-playing, exquisite Dresden cups and saucers were awarded to Mesdames James Madison Kennedy, Edwin Cherry of Oregon, Percy Cleghorn and the Misses Katherine Steeves, Helen Rockwell and McStockier, daughter, Miss Edith Spalding, who were the highest "bridgers." Each married to Lieutenant Garrett of the one of the guests cut for the consolation Tenth Infantry, who is now stationed that prize, which was bon-bon basket on recruiting duty at Fort Shafter, N. ket, tied with pink ruffe. The trophy Y, and Miss Alice became the bride was won by Miss Margaret Peterson, Lieutenant Bowen of the Twentieth Infantry, a little over two years ago. These two weddings, which occurred about two years apart, were solemnized in St. Andrew's Cathedral and were marked with the pomp and splendor that is due a service wedding, and are well remembered by the smart set of Honolulu as being two of the most brilliant society functions that have ever taken place in Honolulu. The date for the Rogers-Spalding nuptials has not been set, but if the present plan for the wedding is consummated the function will rival any former affair that has taken place in this city.

The announcement of the engagement was made Tuesday afternoon at appointed dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis on Sunday evening. The circular table was artistically bedecked with tiger lilies and asparagus fern. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis are living at the beach and the palm-adorned bungalow looking over the broad Pacific lend an added charm. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis' guests were Mrs. Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hunt of New York City, Capt. and Mrs. Wilbur of Fort Riley, Mrs. Wildfield and Mr. Donald Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies' Buffet Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davies entertained at an after-theater buffet supper. Mr. and Mrs. Davies and their guests, after enjoying the usual "play-off," mated to the bingie and enjoyed a most delightful supper. Among the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frauds, Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dives, Captain and Mrs. Clinton Carroll Carter, Mr. Harry McBarbene, Mr. William Bush, and others.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Brown announced the engagement of their daughter Helen to Mr. Stephen Hanna of Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Hanna is associated in business with his father, Mr. M. A. Hanna, who is a wealthy wholesale and retail dealer in that city. Miss Helen Brown belongs to the younger social set of Honolulu, where she is a universal favorite. She is a tall, handsome blonde and is endowed with a charming personality. For the past eight months this pretty and attractive girl has been visiting her grandmother and aunt in Columbus, Ohio, but she will return to her home on the 15th of April. The wedding will probably occur in the summer after Mr. Raymond C. Brown's return from Europe.

The engagement was announced on Friday of this week at a large dinner that was given by Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Hanna. Just before the bride-elect went into dinner, a "cable" was sent to Mrs. Raymond C. Brown, who is residing in Honolulu, bearing the endearing word "Aloha," which signifies so much to the "kamakias."

Cicut and Mrs. Bertholf's Dinner.

Wednesday evening Lieut. and Mrs. Bertholf were host and hostess at a daintily appointed dinner on board the Colorado. The table was adorned in red carnations and silver candlesticks were ornamented in the same tone. After dinner the guests spent the evening listening to the musical strains of the band. Lieut. and Mrs. Bertholf's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hepburn, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Case-Derby, Lieut. and Mrs. Sheedy, Miss Betty Case, Miss Buckley and Miss Stickler.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis' Dinner.

Mrs. Burnham, Sr., of New York City was the honored guest at a well-appointed dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis on Sunday evening. The circular table was artistically bedecked with tiger lilies and asparagus fern. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis are living at the beach and the palm-adorned bungalow looking over the broad Pacific lend an added charm. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis' guests were Mrs. Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hunt of New York City, Capt. and Mrs. Wilbur of Fort Riley, Mrs. Wildfield and Mr. Donald Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies' Buffet Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davies entertained at an after-theater buffet supper. Mr. and Mrs. Davies and their guests, after enjoying the usual "play-off," mated to the bingie and enjoyed a most delightful supper. Among the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frauds, Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dives, Captain and Mrs. Clinton Carroll Carter, Mr. Harry McBarbene, Mr. William Bush, and others.

Mr. Edward Timberlake's Bridge Tea.

Mr. Edward Timberlake of Fort Riley was hostess on Friday afternoon at a daintily bedecked tea in honor of Mrs. Clementine Thomas. Mr. Timberlake's chandelier, and chaste tenement, was aglow with flaming red hibiscus and trailing mint, artistic bouquets filled with fern being arranged about the long oval small tabourettes. The tables of bridge players overlooked the broad Pacific. Mr. Timberlake's tea room was the ideal hostess and an atmosphere of perfect hospitality lingers around the personality of this delightful woman. Prizes of silver Chinese boxes were the gifts at each table. Polite refreshments were served. Mrs. Johnson of Fort Riley joined company. Among Mrs. Timberlake's guests attending besides the guests-of-honor, Mrs. Thomas, wife of Mrs. Walter C. Cowles, Mrs. Montgomery Macomber, Mrs. Weston, Mrs. Arthur Marx, Mrs. Charles F. Wood, Mrs. J. Johnson, Mrs. Benjamin L. Max, Mrs. Bruce Cartwright, Jr., Mrs. Rockwell, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Edwin Mrs. Augustus K. Murphy, Miss Case, Mrs. G. H. Mrs. Preston, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Willis.

Mrs. Fred. Knight, Miss Thelma Parker and their house-servant, Mrs. Eaton, will leave Honolulu on the 12th of March for Manila, where Miss Thelma Parker will celebrate her 18th birthday. Mama is one of the beauty spots of Hawaii, its climatic conditions being ideal.Mr. and Mrs. Bertholf's Dinner.

Wednesday evening Lieut. and Mrs. Bertholf were host and hostess at a daintily appointed dinner on board the Colorado. The table was adorned in red carnations and silver candlesticks were ornamented in the same tone. After dinner the guests spent the evening listening to the musical strains of the band. Lieut. and Mrs. Bertholf's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hepburn, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Case-Derby, Lieut. and Mrs. Sheedy, Miss Betty Case, Miss Buckley and Miss Stickler.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis' Dinner.

Mrs. Burnham, Sr., of New York City was the honored guest at a well-arranged dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis on Sunday evening. The circular table was artistically bedecked with tiger lilies and asparagus fern. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis are living at the beach and the palm-adorned bungalow looking over the broad Pacific lend an added charm. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis' guests were Mrs. Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hunt of New York City, Capt. and Mrs. Wilbur of Fort Riley, Mrs. Wildfield and Mr. Donald Lewis.

Mr. Edward Timberlake's Bridge Tea.

Mr. Edward Timberlake of Fort Riley was hostess on Friday afternoon at a daintily bedecked tea in honor of Mrs. Clementine Thomas. Mr. Timberlake's chandelier, and chaste tenement, was aglow with flaming red hibiscus and trailing mint, artistic bouquets filled with fern being arranged about the long oval small tabourettes. The tables of bridge players overlooked the broad Pacific. Mr. Timberlake's tea room was the ideal hostess and an atmosphere of perfect hospitality lingers around the personality of this delightful woman. Prizes of silver Chinese boxes were the gifts at each table. Polite refreshments were served. Mrs. Johnson of Fort Riley joined company. Among Mrs. Timberlake's guests attending besides the guests-of-honor, Mrs. Thomas, wife of Mrs. Walter C. Cowles, Mrs. Montgomery Macomber, Mrs. Weston, Mrs. Arthur Marx, Mrs. Charles F. Wood, Mrs. J. Johnson, Mrs. Benjamin L. Max, Mrs. Bruce Cartwright, Jr., Mrs. Rockwell, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Edwin Mrs. Augustus K. Murphy, Miss Case, Mrs. G. H. Mrs. Preston, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Willis.

Mrs. Fred. Knight, Miss Thelma Parker and their house-servant, Mrs. Eaton, will leave Honolulu on the 12th of March for Manila, where Miss Thelma Parker will celebrate her 18th birthday. Mama is one of the beauty spots of Hawaii, its climatic conditions being ideal.Mr. and Mrs. Bertholf's Dinner.

Wednesday evening Lieut. and Mrs. Bertholf were host and hostess at a daintily appointed dinner on board the Colorado. The table was adorned in red carnations and silver candlesticks were ornamented in the same tone. After dinner the guests spent the evening listening to the musical strains of the band. Lieut. and Mrs. Bertholf's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hepburn, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Case-Derby, Lieut. and Mrs. Sheedy, Miss Betty Case, Miss Buckley and Miss Stickler.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis' Dinner.

Mrs. Burnham, Sr., of New York City was the honored guest at a well-arranged dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis on Sunday evening. The circular table was artistically bedecked with tiger lilies and asparagus fern. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis are living at the beach and the palm-adorned bungalow looking over the broad Pacific lend an added charm. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis' guests were Mrs. Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hunt of New York City, Capt. and Mrs. Wilbur of Fort Riley, Mrs. Wildfield and Mr. Donald Lewis.

AT THE FLORAL PARADE

The rumble entrance of the Ven. and Miss Eloise Wichman occupied Hanum-Yung Company Ltd., was a the car and added greatly to its attractiveness. Both young girls were in the exact line of daintiness gowned in pink and blue, with a seashell. At first glance the car, plumbette hats, in the battle of flowers was declared by the mass of flowers, which followed the parade large prizewinner; so it was no surprise bunches of La France roses were held to carry off first honors. The tossed by the pretty occupants to the spectators on Punchbowl avenue. This was awarded a first prize.

Mrs. E. E. Dodge's car was one of the most attractive cars in the parade. It was a dainty conceit in the light and dark shades of violets. It was arranged to represent a towering bower of violets with the goal of love framing the relish of life. The car was a mass of violets. Asparagus fern, maidenhair and yards of dainty illusion covered this car. Hanging baskets trimmed with violet ribbon and filled with violets and feather fern. The baskets helped wonderfully to carry out the idea conceived by Mrs. Dodge. This car, which is a Hippocrite, lends itself very nicely to adornments.

Little Josephine Timberlake was a perfect type of a George Washington lad. His dignity and gracious manner to all who applauded him was a joy to behold. The dear lad never seemed to lose his poise, and surely from his manner he realized the great man he was impersonating. To Mrs. Edward Timberlake goes credit for the idea and its fulfillment. Mrs. Timberlake is a master hand, and yesterday's float is only another of this capable woman's achievements.

The car entered by the Kilohana Art League was very beautiful. It represented Hawaii enveloped in a rainbow mist, with one of its daughters as the goddess. It was a sweet conception, and carried out very well the thought implied by the poem written by Judge Dole:

A DREAM OF HAWAII.

With the rainbows on her forehead,
And the sea weed at her feet,
And the trailing mists enfolded,
Roun dabot her body sweet.

So she stands amide the crossways
Of the wide Pacific main,
Looking east and looking westward,
Far across the ocean plain.

With a questioning smile of welcome,
And the shadows in her eyes,
From her night of clouded dreaming,
And her waking of surprise.

— S. B. Dole.

New DressesNew Dresses*A Beautiful Line of Popular-Priced Dresses
Just Received ex Wilhelmina

Absolutely Correct in Style.

Up to the minute in Every Detail

All sizes, 14 to 44, and no two dresses alike. These are from one of the very cleverest makers of New York. Style is the first thought in every garment

We are noted for good values. We have never shown anything so good for the price as this shipment

Prices,

- -

$10.50 to $27.50

JORDAN'S